Pre-Separation Counseling Resource Guide

On behalf of the Department of Defense (DoD) and Department of Homeland Security (DHS), THANK YOU for your service to the nation. As a result of your dedication and commitment, you have earned valuable benefits and access to numerous programs and services, which are outlined in this Pre-Separation Counseling Resource Guide.

These benefits are for Armed Forces members, Reserve Components (RC), and their families. Although various DoD programs are outlined, most of these programs also apply to Coast Guard members. If there is a question on whether or not a Coast Guard member can participate in a specific program, please contact your local Transition Office.

Pre-Separation Counseling provides a lot of information on the many benefits, services, resources, and programs available during and after transition. This guide provides you with the basic information including hyperlinks, to start you on your journey and research programs that may be beneficial to you as you transition. Knowing about these benefits and programs is the first step in helping you make informed decisions when you transition, retire, or are released from active duty.

Whether you are retiring or separating from the military or leaving active-duty status, this is a major change in your life. Just as any major change, it will be exciting as well as present challenges. Transitioning can be stressful and may seem like you are losing a part of your identity, but it also opens a whole range of new possibilities. By approaching your transition as an opportunity for personal and professional growth, you will take a giant step toward re-framing your identity and moving forward with a positive transition experience.

As you start the process, it is a good time to begin thinking about the changes that lie ahead and plan for those that you know will cause stress. This list may include obtaining employment, finding a place to live, covering the financial gap between military and civilian paychecks, and understanding non-TRICARE insurance. The first step is to plan for your transition. By doing so, you can decrease the stress and apprehension that may accompany your transition to civilian life.

TAP is a congressionally mandated program. In 2011, Congress enacted legislation, Title 10 U.S.C., to ensure that transition assistance was provided consistently to all transitioning service members.

Over time, those laws were reviewed and adapted to ensure relevancy in content, process, and program.

TAP Overview

TAP is an outcome-based, multi-part curriculum with standardized learning objectives that prepare you to transition to the Reserves, National Guard, or civilian life by providing support as you work to meet the required Career Readiness Standards (CRS).

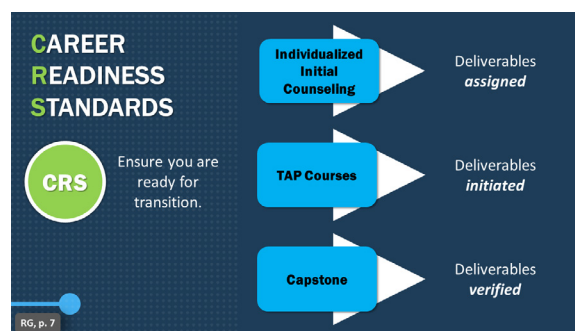

TAP Components and Courses

CRS Career Readiness Standards (CRS)

CRS are the deliverables, developed by the TAP inter-agency partners, which demonstrate you are prepared to transition effectively. Some CRS are completed by attending a TAP workshop or briefing while others will require you to complete an activity or a document.

Your TAP counselor will review your CRS during Capstone to determine if the CRS have been completed or if a warm handover is required.

Individualized Initial Counseling (IC):

During the individualized one-on-one counseling session with a TAP/Transition counselor, you and your counselor should have:

1. Completed a personal self-assessment and begun development of your Individual Transition Plan (ITP).
2. Initiated the "Service Member Pre-Separation/Transition Counseling and Career Readiness Standards e-Form for Service Members Separating, Retiring, Released from Active Duty (REFRAD)," more commonly referred to as the DD Form 2648.
3. Determined a tier level.

Self-Assessment/Individual Transition Plan (ITP):

The self-assessment helps identify beneficial topics and needed services for a smoother transition. The ITP includes the steps required to complete the TAP process. This document is a road-map for you to use to guide you through YOUR transition process. Due to the differences in the culture between the services, each branch of service has a service-specific ITP based on standard mandated requirements.

Complete a
Self-Assessment
and initiate the ITP

A tier level is determined based on the conversation with your counselor, the self-assessment, and the ITP. The tier level guides which courses and CRS are mandatory for your personal transition from military service.

It will be beneficial for you to return to your ITP frequently throughout the transition process to be sure you are on track to complete all the required elements.

If you have not completed all components of IC, contact your TAP counselor immediately. It is critical to identify and document your TAP requirements accurately.

Pre-Separation Counseling Brief

This brief is delivered by the TAP/Transition counselor to provide information on the services, benefits, and resources available during and after transition. The DD Form 2648, in either print or electronic form, will be signed after completing your Pre-Separation Counseling and again after completion of Capstone.

The DD Form 2648

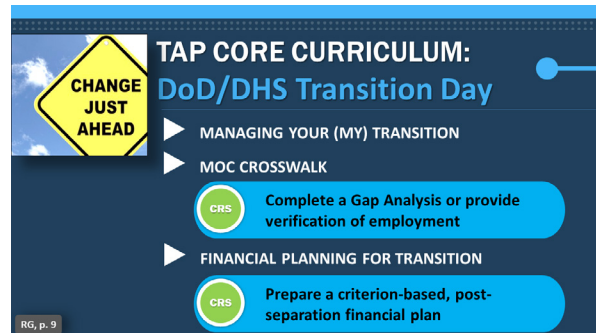

This form, in either print or electronic form, will be signed after completing your Pre-Separation Counseling and again after completion of Capstone.

Core TAP Curriculum

These are mandatory classes which may be waived depending on your IC and tier assignment. The core curriculum consists of 3 full days of instruction for

Continuum of Military Service Opportunity (Active Component Only)

If you served less than 8 years of active military service, you must complete the remainder of your contractual obligation. You can complete your obligation by becoming a member of the Ready Reserve in either the Selected Reserves (SELRES) or Individual Ready Reserves (IRR). TAP will provide you the opportunity to learn about both reserve options through this mandatory counseling.

As you transition, be sure to explore the Reserve and Guard options in the geographic area where you plan to reside. It is possible to live in one location and be part of a Reserve/Guard unit in another. Continuing Military Services is also available for those who have served 8 years or more of active duty and have completed their military service obligation. As a separating or retiring service member, you may continue to serve as a reservist depending on your situation.

For more information, contact a prior service or Reserve recruiter on your installation.

Complete a continuum of Military Service Opportunity counseling

Capstone/ITP Review and Warm Handover

The last step in the process prior to separation is to complete a Capstone. This occurs no later than 90 days before you transition from active duty and will verify you have met your required CRS and have completed an ITP.

If you have not met your CRS or if you feel you need additional assistance, a warm handover is provided to the appropriate agency.

Transition Planning Documents

DD Form 214 (DD 214)

The DD Form 214 is a document that verifies your proof of military service. The Certificate of Release or Discharge form is issued through the DoD. Due to the amount of personal information included on your DD214, it is recommended you safeguard this document just as you would other personal documentation such as your birth certificate. Each service has a different procedure for receiving the DD 214. Check with your TAP counselor if you are unsure of the process.

While in the service, you had a support team. Similarly, during your transition, you need a team for guidance, support, and networking to help find employment, start a business, go to school, or whatever your transition goal is. This team should include transition experts, individuals who have transitioned recently, and civilians, each offering valuable insights for a successful transition. Who to include is your choice, but suggestions follow.

TAP Staff and Counselors

There are many resources available to transitioning service members, both in and out of the service. TAP staff and counselors lead the list with their extensive knowledge in the transition space. These professionals are available prior to beginning the transition process and until the day you separate or retire, and even beyond, in some cases.

VA Disability Benefits

VA disability compensation (pay) offers a monthly tax-free payment to veterans who got sick or injured while serving in the military and to veterans whose existing condition has worsened due to their service. You must apply for this benefit and be found qualified to receive disability benefits. VA disability benefits are provided for physical conditions and mental health conditions that developed before, during, or after service.

For more information visit the VA Disability website.

Benefits Delivery at Discharge (BDD)

Service members can file a disability claim 180-90 days before separation and receive their disability rating shortly after discharge through the Benefits Delivery at Discharge (BDD) program. To use this program, you must have a known separation date, compile all necessary documents and be available for all required VA exams, prior to the BDD claim submission window of 180-90 days. If you are interested in filing for disability using BDD, you are strongly encouraged to make an appointment with a VA Benefits Advisor as soon as possible or speak with a vetted VSO or MSO.

VA DISABILITY BENEFITS: Benefits Delivery at Discharge

VA Education and Training Benefits

Through military service, most Service members earn education benefits with the option to use the benefit or transfer the benefit to a dependent.

VA EDUCATION BENEFITS

- Post 9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33)
- Montgomery GI Bill AD
- Montgomery GI Bill R
- Veteran Readiness and Employment (VR&E)
- Personalized Career Planning and Guidance (PCPG)

RG, p. 23

Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33)

Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits are available to active-duty service members, National Guard, Reservists, veterans, and family members. Under the Post-9/11 GI Bill, there are various types of training and assistance available including institutions of higher learning undergraduate and graduate degrees, flight training, vocational/technical training, and more. The Post-9/11 GI Bill will be covered in the VA Benefits and Services course. However, if eligible for the post-9/11 GI Bill program, you may transfer your unused educational benefits to a spouse or your children.

Transferring your GI Bill Benefits

Transferability of education benefits is a DoD program and DoD determines the eligibility requirements to transfer GI Bill benefits to eligible dependents. Criteria for transfer of educational benefits:

- Be on active duty – transfer of benefits CANNOT happen after separation or retirement
- Served a minimum of 6 years
- Agree to an additional 4 years of service
- Previously elected to change benefits from the MGIB to the Post 9/11 GI Bill
- Person receiving the benefits is enrolled in DEERS

When transferring benefits to family members, all Service members MUST acknowledge the following statement:

"I understand and agree to remain in the Armed Forces for the period required. I understand that failure to complete that service may lead to an overpayment by the Department of Veterans Affairs for any payment made."

(Service documentation will remain on file with the service.)

If educational benefits were transferred, it is strongly advised the Service member log into MilConnect and ensure completion of the required obligated service before separating or retiring. The Obligation End Date is reflected at the top of the page under "Sponsor" and on the "Approval Form."

For more information, visit the GI Bill Benefits website.

GI Bill Benefits

Failure to complete ANY of the service obligation will cause your transferred benefits to be revoked and will result in a required repayment of used portions of the Post 9/11 GI Bill.

Montgomery GI Bill Active Duty (MGIB-AD)

Montgomery GI Bill Active Duty or MGIB-AD program can be used for a variety of trainings such as college degrees and certificate programs, technical or vocational courses, licensing, and certificate tests, and much more. The MGIB can be converted to the Post-9/11 GI Bill, but once the choice is made, the choice is permanent and not reversible.

Visit the Montgomery GI Bill AD website

Montgomery GI Bill Selected Reserve (MGIB-SR) (Chapter 1606)

If you're a member of the Reserves, Army National Guard, or Air National Guard, you may be able to get up to 36 months of education and training benefits under the Montgomery GI Bill Selected Reserve (MGIB-SR) program. VA Health Care

VA's whole health approach is a comprehensive, patient-centered approach to help veterans achieve their greatest wellbeing. Veterans can receive coverage for most care and services, but only some will qualify for added benefits like dental care. Each veteran's medical benefits package is unique.

Every medical package will include care and services to help:

- Treat illnesses and injuries
- Prevent future health problems
- Improve your ability to function
- Enhance your quality of life

With VA health care, a veteran is covered for regular checkups with a primary care provider and appointments with specialists. For more information visit VA Healthcare website.

VA Mental Health Care

VA offers specialized treatment of mental health concerns such as post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), effects of military sexual trauma (MST), depression, grief, anxiety, substance use disorders, women's reproductive mental health problems (e.g., premenstrual dysphoric disorder and postpartum depression), and other needs.

There are some VA mental health services you can access without being enrolled in VA health care. For example, regardless of disability claim or enrollment status, community-based Vet Centers offer free individual and group counseling for veterans and their families.

For more information about VA mental health services and resources visit the VA Mental Health website.

VA Women's Health

VA Women's Health offers primary care services including gynecologic care, birth control, preconception counseling, menopausal support, and screenings (like cervical and breast cancer screenings). VA also provides reproductive and fertility health services, maternity care, and other specialty services.

VA Dental Care

VA provides dental care to veterans who meet certain eligibility requirements. If you experienced “dental trauma” while on active-duty status, you may be eligible for lifelong dental care associated with this trauma and receive a service-connected disability rating. In addition, the VA offers a reduced cost dental care insurance program through the VA Dental Insurance Program, for both veterans and family members.

VA Solid Start

The VA Solid Start program provides early and consistent contact to newly separated veterans. During your first year as a veteran, VA Solid Start will reach out three times, around 90, 180, and 365 days post-separation. VA Solid Start representatives will provide assistance with learning more about VA benefits and services, filing claims, obtaining status updates on benefits applications, and locating additional resources from federal and community partners.

Insurance

VA Life Insurance

VA has many different types of life insurance to assist separating service members and their families.

For more information, go to the VA Life Insurance website.

Veterans' Group Life Insurance (VGLI)

During the VA Benefits and Services course, VA will provide information on converting Service members' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI). With VGLI, the veteran can retain life insurance coverage after separation or retirement if the premiums continue to be paid. To convert SGLI to VGLI, it is necessary to apply within 1 year and 120 days of separation from service.

Traumatic Injury Protection under Service members' Group Life Insurance (TSGLI)

TSGLI, also known as Service members Group Life Insurance Traumatic Injury Protection, provides short-term financial support to help eligible service members recover from a severe injury. Service members who were covered by SGLI and experienced a traumatic injury while serving in the uniformed services can apply for TSGLI, even after separation from service.

SGLI Disability Extension (SGLI-DE)

Service members who are totally disabled at the time of separation (i.e., unable to work due to disabilities or have certain statutory conditions), can apply for the SGLI Disability Extension (SGLI-DE), which provides free coverage for up to 2 years from the date of separation.

Veterans' Affairs Life Insurance (VALife)

VALife is guaranteed acceptance whole life insurance available to all veterans who are age 80 and under with a VA disability rating of 0 to 100%. Veterans do not have to meet any health requirements to obtain coverage and once coverage is effective, premiums never increase.

Veterans' Mortgage Life Insurance (VMLI)

VMLI provides mortgage protection insurance in the event of the veteran's death. This insurance can pay off or pay down the mortgage on a home that has been adapted to meet the veteran's needs. To be eligible for this insurance, the service member or veteran must have been issued a Specially Adapted Housing Grant from VA's Loan Guaranty Service.

State VA Offices

State VA Offices are there to assist in identifying and accessing benefits after separation or retirement. The state VA office is there to provide assistance on the benefits available to the veteran through the state and related to education, employment, finance, health care, housing, legal assistance, recreation, taxes, and more. Each state manages its own state VA Office and benefit programs and services may vary between states.

For more information on a specific state's VA benefits, visit the State VA Office website.

VA Vet Centers

Vet Centers are community-based centers that offer individual, group, marriage and family counseling, community engagement, and referral services veterans, service members, and their families. These are small, intimate facilities located off base and comfortably located in your community. Services are free for life, and do not require enrollment in the VA Healthcare System or a service-connected disability rating.

For more information, visit the VA Vet Center website or call 877-927-8387.

VA Home Loan

The VA home loan guaranty is an earned benefit that can assist eligible service members, veterans, and certain surviving spouses to become homeowners. This benefit ensures you are able to purchase a home with little to no down payment by guaranteeing a portion of the loan, enabling the lender to provide you with more favorable terms.

Plan for Health/Mental Care and Insurance

Effects of Career Change

STEP 1: Plan for Your Transition
STEP 2: Build Your Transition Team
STEP 3: Manage Your VA Benefits
STEP 4: Plan for Health/Mental Care and Health Insurance
STEP 5: Plan for Civilian Employment/Vocational Training
STEP 6: Explore Federal Employment
STEP 7: Plan for Further Education
STEP 8: Consider Starting a Business
STEP 9: Explore Additional Information and Benefits
STEP 10: Locate Assistance

RG, p. 31

Understanding and finding mental health resources, quality healthcare, and health insurance can be one of the most challenging tasks during transition. While in the military, you were provided comprehensive healthcare at little or no cost to you or your family. After transition, this will change; you may be able to continue to use military health care or you may be responsible for finding your own doctors and insurance. Regardless of your options, understanding the requirements for healthcare as you transition, and what is available post-transition is important.

Separation History and Physical Examination (SHPE) (provided by DoD) and Separation Health Assessment (SHA) (provided by VA)

All active-duty service members and Reserve and National Guard members (if they served a minimum of 180 days on active duty or 30 days in a contingency operation) must complete a Separation History and Physical Examination (SHPE) prior to separation, retirement, or release from active duty. Additionally, Reserve Component service members who deployed within 2 years may request a SHPE to document duty-related health conditions that may not have been captured during other physical exams. If applying for VA disability, VA will require a Separation Health Assessment (SHA).

REQUIRED HEALTH ASSESSMENTS
MHS GENESIS Patient Portal contains a Service Separation tab which provides the steps necessary to start the process.

SEPARATION HISTORY AND PHYSICAL EXAMINATION (SHPE)	OR	SEPARATION HEALTH ASSESSMENT (SHA)	AND	MENTAL HEALTH ASSESSMENT (MHA)
<ul style="list-style-type: none">Either SHPE (DoD conducted) or SHA (VA conducted) is required prior to separation or release from active duty.		<ul style="list-style-type: none">Either SHA (VA conducted) or SHPE (DoD conducted) is required prior to separation or release from active duty.SHA is required for VA disability claims.		<ul style="list-style-type: none">MHA is required prior to SHPE or SHA and will be included as part of the appointment.

Confirm your Service Treatment Record (STR) or Military Medical Record includes all medical aid received on AND off installation.

RG, p. 31

To reduce the burden on the service member, the DoD will accept the SHA conducted by the VA provider in lieu of the SHPE.

The SHPE and SHA facilitates:

- Documentation of the health status of separating service members.
- Transfer of care from the DoD to the VA.
- Support for the evaluation of VA disability claims.

The purpose of the SHPE or SHA examination is to ensure that medical conditions the service member developed during service that require ongoing care or that may require care in the future are identified and documented in their military medical file or Service Treatment Record (STR).

Mental Health Assessment (MHA)

MHA is an online mental health assessment which is required to be completed prior to the SHPE or SHA. The results of this online self-assessment will be addressed during the SHPE or SHA. The assessment can be accessed through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal.

Medical History, DD Form 2807-1

The Medical History Form is used during medical examinations for multiple purposes. One of those purposes is separation, retirement, or release from active duty. Failure to fully complete the forms according to the instructions will delay the medical clearance. The form will be provided to you prior to your SHPE or SHA to complete.

Prior to the DoD physical exam, every service member will need to complete a Mental Health Assessment (MHA) DD Form 2978 and a Medical History Form DD Form 2807-1.

Forms are also available by accessing the <https://www.health.mil/Military-Health-Topics/Access-Cost-Quality-and-Safety/DES/Separation-Health-Assessment>

SHPE and MHA

Service members are required to complete a SHPE and MHA prior to separation.

The requirement can be completed:

- During service member's scheduled DoD-performed SHPE and MHA.
- As part of the Integrated Disability Evaluation System (IDES) process.
- During a VA disability exam (SHA) as part of the BDD process.

Service Treatment Record (STR)

It is essential that the STR is up to date prior to any medical exam. The STR is a chronological record documenting the medical and dental care and treatment received while in the service. The Military Health System (MHS) maintains all service member STR per DoD policy and U.S. health care laws. When a service member files a claim for benefits, a copy of the STR, along with any other medical documentation will be provided to VA.

Convenient, online access to service member's medical records is available through the MHS GENESIS Patient Portal. The system contains all documents, including scanned copies of the paper STR. As service members prepare for the SHPE or SHA, it is strongly encouraged they review the "Problem List" within the STR to make sure that important conditions are listed. It is also necessary to review the "Documents" section to make sure that health care documentation and any material from other health care systems are included in the STR. The Primary Care Manager (PCM) or Military Treatment Facility (MTF) can assist with missing information.

In addition to health record access, MHS GENESIS Patient Portal has a Service Separation page with instructions, forms, and links to VA sites to help prepare for the SHPE or SHA.

DoD inTransition

DoD's inTransition is a free and confidential program that provides specialized coaching and resources to Service members transitioning between mental/behavioral health care providers or systems. It also assists those seeking mental health care for the first time. inTransition coaches help Service members find treatment options, secure appointments, and access transition-related resources. Service members who received mental/behavioral health care or treatment for moderate to severe traumatic brain injuries within the past 12 months are automatically enrolled, but they can opt-out at any time.

Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO)

The Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Office (SAPRO) serves as the single point of authority, accountability, and oversight of the DoD SAPR program. The Department's programmatic approach is prevention-focused with an uncompromising commitment to victim assistance.

If you have been a victim of sexual assault and need assistance, more information, or additional resources:

- Contact your unit or installation Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) or SAPR Victim Advocate (SAPR VA)
- Find your local SARC and other sources of help on-base. Just text your Zip code or installation/base name to 55-247 (in the U.S.) or 202-470-5546 (outside the U.S.), or search at SafehelpLine.org/near me
- Contact the DoD Safe Helpline: 1-877-995-5247, or Safe helpline website
- Visit the VA MST-related services website.

TRICARE

When separating or retiring, you and your family may no longer be eligible for TRICARE. It will be necessary for you to find health care either through an employer or on your own. TRICARE is one option, which may still be available depending upon the type of discharge or if you retired from military service. TRICARE provides many different types of insurance plans which vary in their coverage of mental health, substance abuse, dental, and medical services.

TRICARE program options can be found on the TRICARE website.

TRICARE Health Plan Changes

Changes to a health care plan can only be made during the annual Open Enrollment season. However, as a transitioning service member, you qualify to start or change a healthcare plan outside of open enrollment period due to transitioning being considered a Qualifying Life Event (QLE).

Changes must occur within 90 days after a QLE.

TRICARE Mental Health Care

Active-duty family members may seek mental health care if needed during transition. Referral and preauthorization are not required if the family member seeks care within the network from a mental health provider. If mental health treatment will need to continue after transition, it is necessary to make provisions to continue care as TRICARE medical insurance may no longer be an option.

TRICARE Health Plans

If eligible for and seeking TRICARE coverage after transition, the TRICARE website provides information on the available benefits and health plans. In addition, the TRICARE website has a Plan Finder to learn about health plans based on the service member's status. The Plan Finder allows for specific information to be entered, answers questions, and explains possible options.

TRICARE Eligibility and Enrollment

When retiring from military service, it's crucial to schedule an appointment with a TRICARE representative to understand your eligibility, options, availability, and costs. Failure to enroll in TRICARE Prime or TRICARE Select will result in losing all TRICARE coverage and default to space-available direct care at military hospitals or clinics.

TRICARE for Life (TFL) and Medicare (after age 65)

Retirees 65 and above are no longer eligible for TRICARE for Retirees. After age 65, Medicare becomes their primary healthcare insurance. Retirees must enroll in Medicare Part A & B to be eligible for TFL as supplemental coverage beyond Medicare. Medicare and TFL together provide comprehensive health care coverage, to include prescription coverage through TFL under the TRICARE Pharmacy Program. When Medicare Part A and B coverage begins, the change from Tricare for Retirees to TFL occurs automatically, with no enrollment required.

TRICARE Prime and Select (for Retirees until age 65)

TRICARE Prime or Select coverage requires a beneficiary to enroll and pay applicable enrollment fees or premiums, cost-shares or copays, and annual deductible. This option is available to retirees who have retired from the military but have not yet reached 65 years of age. If living overseas, TRICARE Select for Retirees is the only option available.

US Family Health Plan (USFHP)

USFHP is an additional TRICARE Prime option available through networks of community-based, not-for-profit health care systems in six areas of the United States. A retiree must enroll, pay the annual enrollment fee and co-payments, and use doctors in the network. This is only available in certain locations.

TRICARE Retired Reserve

TRICARE Retired Reserve may be the right healthcare plan for retired reservists who qualify (i.e., those not eligible for or enrolled in a Federal Employees Health Benefit plan and are under age 60). The plan provides comprehensive health care coverage under TRICARE Select.

Federal Insurance

Certain types of federal insurance are available to veterans. These programs are also offered to other federal government employees and retirees.

Dental and Vision Coverage for Retirees

After retirement, dental and vision is no longer available from TRICARE. However, retired uniformed service members, their eligible family members, and survivors are eligible for dental and vision insurance through the Federal Employees Dental and Vision Insurance Program (FEDVIP). If eligible, the enrollment requests can be made 31 days prior to, or within 60 days following the retirement date to prevent a gap in dental coverage.

For further information about FEDVIP plan options, eligibility, and QLEs visit the BENEFEDS website or call: 1-877-888-FEDS (1-877-888-3337).

Transitional/Temporary Health Care Coverage

Transitional health care coverage is available if you separate from the military and meet the eligibility requirements. Two such programs are listed below.

Continued Health Care Benefits Program (CHCBP)

The Continued Health Care Benefits Program or CHCBP is available for those who are not eligible for VA health care benefits or TRICARE options and do not yet qualify for an employer-based program or who need coverage for a family after separating or are losing TAMP coverage.

CHCBP:

- Provides temporary health coverage for 18-36 months for former service members and their family
- Reserve Component members, adult children, and un-remarried former spouses are also eligible
- Acts as a bridge between military health benefits and a new civilian health plan to maintain health care coverage in a time of transition
- Provides similar coverage as TRICARE Select (including prescriptions, coverage for pre-existing conditions, and pregnancy)
- CHCBP is a temporary solution for health care coverage, during which it is necessary to actively consider options for when CHCBP ends

To obtain CHCBP, an applicant must submit a request to enroll within 60 days after loss of eligibility for military health care, (i.e., TRICARE Prime/Select or TAMP) and pay quarterly premiums. In addition to premiums, there are additional copays and cost-shares for some covered services.

For more information about CHCBP or to see if you qualify, visit the CHCBP website.

Transitional Assistance Management Program (TAMP)

If separating from active duty or deactivating/demobilizing, a Service member may be eligible for TAMP. TAMP provides 180 days of premium-free TRICARE transitional health care benefits after regular TRICARE benefits end.

To be eligible for TAMP, a Service member must be:

- Involuntarily separated from active duty.
- A Reserve Component member separated from active duty after serving more than 30 days on orders for a pre-planned mission or in support of a contingency operation.
- Separated from active duty after being involuntarily retained on active duty in support of a contingency operation.
- Separated from active duty following a voluntary agreement to remain on active duty for a period of less than 1 year in support of a contingency operation.
- A member who receives a sole survivorship discharge.
- Separated from active duty and agree to become a member (affiliate) of the Selected Reserve of the Ready Reserve of a Reserve Component the day immediately following last day of active duty.

Once DEERS is updated to authorize the 180-day TAMP coverage, the coverage is effective the day TAMP eligibility begins. For questions on TAMP eligibility, contact your personnel office.

For additional information on TAMP coverage, contact your regional contractor or visit the TAMP website.

TAMP Health Coverage

For those who qualify, TAMP offers 180 days of premium-free health care to the Service member and eligible family members after separation from active duty. If eligible, TAMP starts the day after separation from active duty. TAMP eligibility is not automatic as individuals must meet one of the six qualifying criteria.

Dental Coverage During TAMP

During TAMP, the Service member is covered under the Active Duty Dental Program and may be seen in military dental treatment facilities on a space-available basis.

Family members are still eligible for the TRICARE Dental plan during TAMP and must continue to pay premiums.

Health Insurance Marketplace

Veterans and their family members who are not enrolled in VA benefits or other veteran's health coverage can get coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace.

HEALTH INSURANCE MARKETPLACE

- At date of separation, health insurance ends with TRICARE, with few exceptions.
- Health Insurance Marketplace is where anyone can find health insurance.
- More information will be provided during the Financial Planning for Transition module.

Be sure to plan for separation when your health insurance with Tricare may end!

STEP 5:

Plan for Civilian Employment/ Vocational Training

Effects of Career Change

Transitioning from the service is the ultimate career change. For many, finding employment or a new career path is the first and most important area of concern. DOL takes the lead for this topic by providing information on employment, vocational training, certifications, licensure, and various other avenues to use when seeking employment or a career.

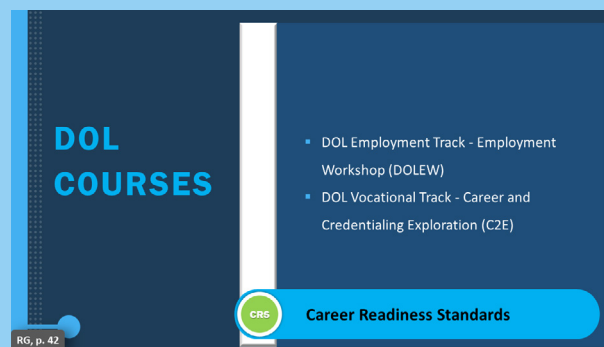

DOL Veterans Employment and Training Service (VETS) Courses

DOL TAP courses help Service members translate military skills and experience into civilian terms, build a resume, search for jobs, and provide essential interview tips and resources which link to job search websites and databases.

In addition to the TAP curriculum, DOL provides access to the tools and best practices that help in the transition from military service to a civilian career. This includes evaluating career options; preparing for success in the employment process; and applying, interviewing, and evaluating a job offer.

The Veteran and Military Transition Center website is a one-stop website for employment, training, and financial help after military service.

DOL TAP courses include:

- DOL One-Day, Employment Fundamentals for Career Transition (EFCT) provides an overview on employment and topics to consider as you transition to a civilian employment and career.
- DOL One-Day, Wounded Warrior and Caregiver Employment Workshop (WWCEW) is similar to EFCT, but with a focus for those who are wounded, ill or injured on the challenges they may encounter. This course is divided into multiple sections with addition time for one-on-one with a facilitator.
- DOL Employment Track: Employment Workshop (DOLEW) provides greater detail on transitioning to a civilian career to include identifying career goals and skills, developing and building a personal brand, exploring federal hiring, preparing for interviews, receiving a job offer, and negotiating that offer.
- DOL Vocational Track: Career and Credential Exploration (C2E) Workshop—is for those who want to explore their interests, values, and aptitudes to make an informed career decision. C2E is ideal for those seeking to identify credentials and qualifications needed for occupations of interest and understand the opportunities and benefits of apprenticeships.

Transition Employment Assistance for Military Spouses and Caregivers (TEAMS)

DOL also provides virtual instructor-led workshops for former and current military spouses, known as Transition Employment Assistance for Military Spouses and Caregivers (TEAMS). These workshops are focused on empowering military spouses to tackle their special employment needs such as unemployment and underemployment, frequent moves, lack of experience, and licensure and credential portability. These 2-hour workshops focus on topics important to the spouse of a active duty or transitioning service member as well as spouses of veterans.

For more information on the workshops, to access participant guides, or to register for a workshop, visit the TEAMS website.

DOL Resources

DOL provides a multitude of resources for use during and after transition. Services provided by these resources include online websites, local job centers, and local or state level job banks.

Career One Stop

DOL sponsors the Career One Stop website as part of its partnership with the American Job Center (AJC) network. Be sure to utilize the Career One Stop website for finding career information. Its resources and information can help you identify potential careers using current military occupation, explore training opportunities for certifications and licenses, examine typical job-related duties, and search employers and jobs, in addition to providing tools to research labor market information and explore civilian careers.

O*NET Online and My Next Move for Veterans

Another useful resource developed under the sponsorship of DOL is O*NET. It is the nation's primary source of civilian occupational information.

The O*NET database contains information on hundreds of different occupations, job descriptions and functions, lists of tools used in specific jobs and knowledge, skills, abilities, training, and education required for the positions.

My Next Move for Veterans is a site within O*NET specifically geared toward aligning military occupation codes with the civilian equivalents. This resource can be a useful tool to assist in researching potential occupations similar to current military specialty, suggest possible skills attained while in the military, and identify industry standard keywords. My Next Move also allows the user to browse careers by keywords, branch of service, and the Military Occupational Code (MOC).

Visit O*NET Online.

American Job Centers - Priority of Service

While on active duty and after separation, employment assistance is available through the DOL American Job Center (AJC). Available in most local communities, it provides a full array of employment- and training-related resources and services. AJCs are connected to employment, education, and training services provided through local, state, and federal programs. Each of these centers serves as a one-stop resource that links service members to the national network. Veterans receive Priority of Service (POS) in training programs and services provided through the AJC.

This means a veteran seeking employment assistance at an AJC will go to the head of the line. If the resources are limited, the veteran will receive access ahead of other applicants. To receive POS, a veteran must identify as a veteran when seeking assistance.

While AJC networks partner with DOL, each state manages their AJCs. Therefore, the name of the local AJC may differ slightly. To locate your nearest AJC, visit the Career One Stop website.

State Job Banks

As part of the state workforce agency or AJC, each state has its own job banks. These job banks have postings for jobs within a specific city and/or state. Veterans can search for job openings, post resumes for employers to find, and request to be notified when positions that meet their criteria are posted. Since employers can post jobs at no charge to their state's job bank, job banks are a good local research tool. These job banks are free resources for both employers and job seekers.

To explore state job banks, job search section of the Career One Stop website, and select the state to search by job type or location.

Unemployment Compensation

Service members who are retiring, separating, or being released from active duty, may qualify for Unemployment Compensation (UCX). A veteran may be entitled to benefits based on service, but must meet the state eligibility requirements, to include having been separated under honorable conditions. The law of the state (under which the claim is filed) determines benefit amounts, number of weeks benefits can be paid, and other eligibility conditions.

Access the Unemployment Benefits Finder website for the state where the claim will be filed for more information.

Credentialing Information

Credentialing is the “umbrella term” for licenses and certifications. Some federal, state, or local laws may require specific credentials to legally perform some jobs. Some employers may choose to hire only employees who have certain credentials or offer a higher salary to those currently holding the credential. In addition, having credentials may improve prospects for promotion with a civilian employer.

Licenses

Governmental agencies (federal, state, or local) grant licenses to individuals to practice a specific occupation, such as a medical license for doctors or a state license for schoolteachers. State or federal laws or regulations define the standards that individuals must meet to become licensed.

Certifications

A certification is issued by non-governmental agencies, associations, and private-sector companies. These organizations or companies may grant certifications to individuals who meet predetermined qualifications. Qualifications are generally set by professional associations or by industry and product-related organizations. Certification is typically optional; however, some employers may require them.

Even with all the military training, experience, and/or military licenses earned by service members, many civilian jobs require the transition of military credentials to civilian ones. Check with the credentialing authorities as some may grant credit for military training or experience.

To explore credentialing requirements for various career opportunities, visit Career One Stop Find Certifications website.

Credentialing Opportunities On-Line (COOL)

Another online resource which can assist with industry certifications and licensure is the Services' COOL websites. The COOL websites consolidate information from numerous sources at the federal, state, and local levels on certifications, licenses, apprenticeships, and growth opportunities that correspond with each military occupation, several collateral duties, and leadership/management roles. Armed with that information, COOL provides the information for a service member to learn about and obtain civilian licenses and certifications that are closely aligned with current or former military occupations, academic degrees, or civilian jobs for Reservists.

The COOL website can help you with the following:

- Locate background information about civilian certifications and licensure
- Identify certifications and licenses relevant to military MOS, AFSC, or Rating
- Learn how to fill gaps between military training and experience and civilian credentialing requirements associated with MOS, AFSC, or Rating
- Learn about resources available to help gain civilian job credentials

MilGears

MilGears is designed to provide career and credentialing pathways and is powered by COOL. This online suite of tools can help identify career pathways based on unique career data or by using the quick search tools. MilGears Engage My Career guides the user to enter manually, or upload documents related to military training, duty assignments, on- and off-duty education, credentialing, and in-service and post-service goals. The results provide a personalized assessment of the civilian credentials and career opportunities that may be immediately achievable or achieved quickly. The results also provide details on how to fill any gaps and next steps to accomplish credentialing or career goals. Similar to O*NET, MilGears also shows "best-fit" post-service occupations and provides resources to explore them.

Gaining Experience

Having experience in your chosen career area is very important. There are multiple ways to gain experience including apprenticeships, job training through USMAPS, DoD SkillBridge, and volunteering.

Apprenticeship

Apprenticeship is an industry-driven career pathway where employers can develop and prepare future employees by providing paid work experience, classroom instruction, and a nationally recognized portable credential.

Apprenticeships are available in hundreds of occupations such as IT, cybersecurity, healthcare, energy, transportation, hospitality, financial services, and many others. Gaining experience in these high-growing and emergent industries can lead to meaningful employment.

All high-quality apprenticeship programs include virtual or in-person classroom instruction, and many apprentices earn academic credit toward a college degree for the skills they learn while avoiding college debt.

Some apprenticeship programs are approved for GI Bill benefits which allows the participant to receive a tax-free, monthly housing stipend and a stipend for books and supplies in addition to their wages.

For more information on or to locate an apprenticeship, visit the DOL Apprenticeship website.

For information on using your GI Bill for an apprenticeship, visit VA GI Bill website on apprenticeships.

United Services Military Apprenticeship Program (USMAP)

USMAP is an apprenticeship program registered with DOL. The program enables Active, Reserve, and Guard members to earn national certifications as Journey Workers in specific occupational fields. The program's major purpose is to document training and skills learned while performing military jobs. Completion of the program can qualify the service member for employment in a recognized civilian trade.

USMAP is provided at no cost and requires no additional time or obligation. This formal military on-the-job training program provides an opportunity to demonstrate and improve job skills. USMAP helps streamline and formalize different types of training in the military and civilian workforce, and also helps to bridge the gap between the two.

USMAP website.

Volunteering

Volunteering can be valuable for transition into civilian life. Volunteering has proven to assist with finding employment prospects, learning new skills, and becoming engaged in local communities. Research shows that volunteering increases a person's likelihood of finding a job by 27% nationwide, and volunteers in rural communities have a 55% higher chance of finding a job. Volunteering also helps with building a resume, by providing experience and job networking which can lead to employment opportunities.

Choose a volunteer opportunity based on skills, experience, and employment objectives. Volunteering can provide the experience or network connections when seeking employment opportunities in a new field. Find volunteer opportunities in the local community through the state's Service Commission or through local organizations.

DoD Mentoring

Mentoring provides employees vital resources and guidance in improving professional performance, personal growth, and career decision making. Mentors share their knowledge, skills, and experience with another person to help them progress and achieve their goals. Mentors can help mentees in a variety of ways to include increasing self-awareness, encouraging growth beyond expectations, providing constructive feedback, improving technical competence, and expanding professional networks.

Formal mentoring programs typically are 6 months to a yearlong but mentoring relationship can continue for years and even for decades.

AmeriCorps

Veterans are a proven force multiplier for national service programs nationally and serving with AmeriCorps is an effective way to tap the talent and leadership skills you've gained in the military to solve problems at home. More than 13,000 veterans serve in AmeriCorps and AmeriCorps Seniors programs each year, applying the leadership and skills they acquired in the military to continue service by giving back to their communities.

Service provides specific benefits to military service members transitioning to civilian life—camaraderie, teamwork, and help address community needs, which allows you to re-connect with communities. AmeriCorps has thousands of roles for Americans of any age to help communities tackle their toughest challenges. From mentoring students to higher academic achievement, being the first to respond when disaster strikes, helping families facing hunger, restoring public lands, or even rehabilitating affordable housing, you can make a difference.

You can join hundreds of thousands of Americans who serve every year—in the capacity that works for your passion, goals, and lifestyle and gain a career network outside the military and build a new community during your transition back to civilian life. You can gain access to hundreds of Schools and Employers of National Service that give special consideration to AmeriCorps alumni in addition to veteran's preference and grow your skills to become a sought-after job applicant and earn benefits like a living allowance and money for school.

Find an opportunity that fits you: AmeriCorps.

Peace Corps

In more than 60 countries, Peace Corps Volunteers are putting their purpose, passion, and skills to work in partnership with welcoming host countries. Volunteers live and work side by side with community members on locally prioritized projects, building relationships, exchanging cultures and knowledge, and helping transform lives for generations. Peace Corps volunteers receive transportation, housing, and a living stipend, as well as paid leave, student loan benefits, and medical/dental care. Upon completion of 2 years of service, the Peace Corps provides each volunteer with more than $10,000 to help with the transition to life back home.

The Peace Corps provides rigorous technical training and in-depth inter-cultural and language instruction as well as opportunities to develop other skills. As you take your next career steps after service, you will have access to an active and diverse Peace Corps alumni network and community of over 240,000 persons with whom you can connect. Graduate schools also recognize the valuable experience of RPCVs and many states, universities, and colleges offer RPCVs reduced tuition, assistantships, and stipends.

DoD SkillBridge

DoD SkillBridge is a job skills training program that offers opportunities in civilian on-the-job training (OJT), employment skills training, pre-apprenticeships, apprenticeships, or internships that provide a pathway to post-service employment.

Program guidelines require the Service member to be within 180 days of separation and have gained approval from the first field-grade level Commander. In addition, each service has individual guidelines and requirements for participation. Local transition or education offices have more information about the SkillBridge program. Currently, more than 7,000 programs are offered via SkillBridge, with more being added each year.

Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA)

The Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) is a federal law. It protects military Service members and veterans from employment discrimination based on their service. It allows them to regain their civilian jobs following a period of uniformed service.

USERRA provides the following:

- Protects civilian job rights and benefits for eligible veterans and members of the Active and Reserve components of the U.S. armed forces.
- Provides protection for veterans injured during a period of service upon returning to a position, requiring employers to make reasonable efforts to accommodate the disability.
- Provides eligible service members recovering from injuries received during service or training up to 2 years from the date of completion of service to return to their jobs or apply for reemployment.
- Protects job rights of veterans and members of the Reserve components but this protection does not extend to spouses or family members.
- Applies to ALL employers, regardless of size.

For more information and to determine whether your USERRA rights have been violated, access the USERRA Advisor. All the details on your rights, including How to File a complaint are on the USERRA VETS website.

STEP 6: Explore Federal Employment

Effects of Career Change

Many who transition from the military may find employment in federal, state, or local government. This may occur for various reasons such as familiarity with the job, area, or position; wanting to remain within the military space without being in the military; or to support those serving in the military. Finding employment in the federal government can be a time-consuming process with multiple steps. You are encouraged to take advantage of the available resources provided in this section if seeking employment within the federal government.

Federal Employment Opportunities

USAJOBS is the official job site of the U.S. Federal Government. While agencies can advertise positions on their agency portals, USAJOBS provides the best path to search for federal jobs that match an individual's skills, education, and experience. It has the tools to narrow results and find job opportunities and includes helpful instructions on how to submit application packets. Using USAJOBS, creating a federal resume, and how to apply for a federal position is provided in the DOL 2-day Employment workshop.

Check with the local installation to see if there is a federal hiring course or federal resume writing workshop. Another option is to utilize the online course "Transitioning to Federal Employment" on TOL.

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) also offers workshops on federal hiring, resume writing, interviewing, and navigating USAJOBS.

For more information, visit the USAJOBS website.

Feds Hire Vets

When searching for federal employment, Feds Hire Vets is the single website for federal employment information for veterans, transitioning military service members, their families, and federal hiring officials.

On this site, 24 federal agencies that are interested in hiring veterans provide a directory of their Veteran representatives. This allows job seekers to locate the veteran recruiter, obtain helpful tips on getting hired, and request an informational interview through the veteran representative to obtain insight into the agency.

Visit the
Fed Hire Vets website.

Special Appointing Authority for Veterans

In addition to Veterans Preference, there are Special Appointing Authorities for Veterans, which provide veterans with a noncompetitive appointment. Eligibility under these types of special authorities gives the veterans advantage over non-veterans because there is no need to compete outside the special authority category.

The three authorities that are for veterans exclusively are:

- Veterans Employment Opportunities Act (VEOA)
- Veterans Recruitment Appointment (VRA)
- Thirty Percent or More Disabled Veteran

Veteran Employment Program Offices (VEPO)

For more information on special hiring authorities and Veterans Preference, contact the VEPO at the agency of interest. The VEPOs are responsible for promoting veterans' recruitment, employment, training and development, and retention within their respective agencies.

For agencies not listed on the Feds Hire Vets website, locate the human resources office within the agency as an alternate source of information on veteran hiring.

A directory of VEPOs

Post-Military Employment Restrictions

180 Day Wait Time

Please note that Service members who retire from the military are required to complete a 180-day waiting period before being appointed to a DoD civilian position.

A waiver may be granted under 5 U.S.C. § 3326.

(AUTHORITY: Section 1111, National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017).

180-Day Restriction on Department of Defense Employment of Military Retirees

Service members who retire from the military are required to complete a 180-day waiting period before being hired into a DoD civilian job.

This ONLY applies to civilian employment in the DoD, not civilian employment in other government agencies.

There are exceptions to this restriction as stated in Section 3326(b) of the title 5, United States Code. A retired member of the Armed Forces may be appointed to a position in the civil service in or under the DoD (including a non-appropriated fund instrumentality under the jurisdiction of the Armed Forces) during the period of 180-days immediately after retirement if:

- The proposed appointment is authorized by the Secretary concerned or his designee and, if the position is in the Competitive Service, after approval by the Office of Personnel Management; or
- The minimum rate of basic pay for the position was increased under section 5305 of this title.

NOTE: Reservists and Guardsmen who retire but are not yet receiving retirement pay are excluded from the 180-day rule. If interested in a position within the DoD, consult with the human resources office of the hiring agency to answer any questions.

Post-Government (Military) Service Employment Restriction Counseling

Military components are required to provide counseling on relevant federal and DoD government service employment restrictions to military members who are leaving active-duty service. The guidance provides information on restrictions for employment after leaving the military and the bans that occur if restrictions are violated.

A summary of the most common post-government employment restrictions includes:

- Personal: Lifetime ban on representing another individual or company to the government regarding particular matters the veteran worked on while in government service.
- Official Responsibility: Two-year ban on representing someone else to the government regarding particular matters that were pending under the veteran's responsibility during the last year of government service.
- Trade or Treaty: One-year ban to not aid, advise, or represent someone else regarding trade or treaty negotiations that the veteran worked on during the last year of government service.
- Seeking or negotiating for post-government employment.
- Compensation for representation to the government by others.

Declining this mandatory counseling is not allowed. Contact the installation legal office (Staff Judge Advocate or legal counselor's office) to ensure receipt of the post-military employment restriction briefing or counseling from an ethics official.

Section 847 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008 requires military officers who have a tentative offer of employment or compensation from a defense contractor to perform specific duties for that contractor within 2 years of leaving DoD to obtain written advice from their component ethics counselor regarding the proposed employment if the following criteria are met:

- Military Officers serving in the grade of O-7 or above who participated personally and substantially in an acquisition valued more than $10M.
- Military member in any grade who served as a program manager or deputy program manager for an acquisition program, procuring contracting officer, administrative contracting officer, source selection authority, member of the source selection evaluation board, or chief of a financial or technical evaluation team for a contract more than $10M.

DD 2945

To obtain written advice, you need to submit DD 2945 Request for Post-Government Employment Opinion. Check with your ethics office for more information.

For O-7 and Higher:

In addition, NDAA 2018, Section 1045 imposes certain prohibitions on DoD lobbying activities by officers of the Armed Forces in the grade of O-7 or higher following separation from military service. A service member currently serving in this grade band should contact the servicing component ethics office for specific post-government employment advice.

Employment Restrictions

Service members O – 7 and higher are required to sign written acknowledgement of the restrictions to comply with the section 1045 of the NDAA for FY 2018.

(AUTHORITY: Section 1045 of the NDAA for FY 2018, DoD Instruction 1000.32, "Prohibition of Lobbying Activity by Former DoD Senior Officials.").

Plan for Further Education

Effects of Career Change

If you are seeking a complete career change, you may need to complete the educational requirements prior to seeking employment. Explore the vast resources available to you as you transition to an institution of higher learning.

Managing Your (MY) Education Track

If you plan to attend a college or university post-transition, you should attend the DoD Education Track: Managing Your (MY) Education as part of your TAP course selection. This 2-day course provides an understanding of higher education including guidance on how to select a school and major, the application process, funding options beyond the GI Bill, the admissions process, and strategies for success. This course is available in-person through the TAP office or online at TOL.

Education Assistance Resources

Each military service has Education Services Specialists (ESS), Education Services Officers (ESO), or professional counselors who can provide a service member with information on the educational opportunities available and guidance on how to proceed along this path.

These programs include a variety of services, such as:

- College-level testing
- Professional military education
- Veterans benefits
- Tuition assistance
- Financial aid
- Deferments
- Distance learning

Speaking to an ESS/ESO about an educational path is an important part of preparing to transition from active military service. Take advantage of the subject matter expertise and knowledge at the base education office while still on active duty.

Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES)

DANTES provides no-cost education and career-planning programs for all active-duty service members including the National Guard, Reserve components, and the Coast Guard. During every step of a service member's military career, education programs and services help foster personal and professional growth through learning.

DANTES programs include the following:

Kuder Journey for Career & Education Planning

By taking a few assessments, Kuder will identify your skills, interests, and aptitude for different career areas. This program identifies career areas that fit with your areas of interest and recommends an education and/or career path to achieve them.

Academic Skills Training for College Preparation

Academic Skills Training consists of the Online Academic Skills Course (OASC). OASC is a good place to start if you are unsure if you are academically prepared for college subjects like English, math, and science. OASC can help improve skills in these subjects as well as in reading comprehension and vocabulary skills. Additionally, the program offers no-cost tutoring and other helpful tools.

College Credit-by-Examination: CLEP and DSST

College Credit-by-Examination includes the College-Level Examination Program® (CLEP) and the Prometric DSST Exam Series. Both offer the opportunity to earn college credit for prior knowledge gained through military training and experiences outside of a traditional classroom.

To learn more about what DANTES offers or get more information on education benefits, visit the DANTES website.

Federal Student Aid Programs are administered by the U.S. Department of Education and include grants, loans, and work-study programs. These federally-funded programs help provide money for college through the student's post-secondary institution and can be used in addition to the GI Bill.

To learn more about these programs, visit the DoE Federal Aid Program website.

Veterans Upward Bound

The Department of Education, through some colleges or universities, offers the Veterans Upward Bound Program. This program is a free, college preparatory program available to eligible veterans intended to encourage, empower, and prepare college-bound veterans for the rigors of post-secondary training. It is necessary to research the school to determine if they participate in this program.

STEP 8:

Consider Starting a Business

Effects of Career Change

Starting or running your own business may be your post-transition plan. To understand how to begin this process, the Small Business Administration (SBA) is the best resource.

Small Business Administration (SBA) Entrepreneurship Track Boots to Business (B2B)

For those considering starting a business after transition, SBA conducts a 2-day course that provides an overview of entrepreneurship. The B2B program guides service members through the benefits and challenges of entrepreneurship, identifies the optimal business skills required to operate a business, and provides access to the numerous tools and resources available to launch and maintain a successful business. In addition to B2B, SBA provides follow on services and online courses offered by entrepreneurship professors and practitioners.

Individualized SBA resources can be found on the SBA website.

- SBA Resources & Programs
- B2B Class Schedules
- Local Assistance
- Online Training

B2B is also available in-person through the installation TAP office and online at TOL.

Veterans Federal Procurement Opportunities and Assistance

Small Business Administration

The Small Business Development Act sets an annual government-wide goal that 3% of all prime contracts/subcontracts should be awarded to small businesses owned and controlled by service-disabled veterans.

Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned small businesses may be awarded government contracts through a sole-source or a set-aside award. Before the award of a contract, the veteran-owned company must be registered in SAM.

To find the competitive procurement announcements, visit the System for Award Management \(SAM\) website.

Veteran entrepreneurship is supported by SBA, VA, and DoD through the following legislation and programs:

- SBA—Small Business Development Act 1999 created goals for veteran contracts.
- DoD Procurement Technical Assistance Center Program helps businesses pursue government contracts.
- VA Small and Veteran Business Program provides support to small and veteran businesses.

RG, p. 64

VA Small and Veteran Business Programs

VA Small and Veteran Business Programs implement the requirements to aid, counsel, assist, and protect the interests of small and veteran business concerns. This and other program information can also be found the VA website for Small and Veteran Businesses.

DoD Procurement Technical Assistance Center Program (PTAC)

The Procurement Technical Assistance Program was established to expand the number of businesses capable of participating in government contracts. DoD administers the program in cooperation with states, local governments, and nonprofit organizations. PTACs help businesses pursue and perform contracts with the DoD, other federal/state/local agencies, and government prime contractors. Most of the assistance is free. Support to businesses includes registration in systems such as SAM, identification of contract opportunities, help in understanding requirements, and preparing and submitting bids.

Locate a local PTAC here: <https://www.aptac-us.org>.

STEP 8

Consider Starting a Business

- Review Small Business Administration (SBA) programs to start or run your business
- Attend a 2-day course by SBA in person through the installation TAP
- Learn more about Boots to Business entrepreneurial education via SBA website
- Find competitive procurement announcements for Veteran Owned Small Businesses via System for Award Management (SAM)

STEP 9:

Explore Additional Information and Benefits

Effects of Career Change

There are many more benefits and resources available which are not able to be covered during the Pre-Separation Counseling brief but could assist with the effects of your career change. Take time to explore those benefits and resources which are of interest to you and applicable to your situation.

DoD & VA Beneficiary Access Post-Transition

While on active duty, you have used a Common Access Card (CAC) for DoD and VA accounts and websites. Before you turn in your CAC, it is highly recommended you create a DS Logon and a Login.gov account. Doing so will allow you to maintain access to DoD and VA websites and access your benefits.

DS Logon: Provides a secure means of authentication for websites containing personally identifiable information (PII) and personal health information (PHI). Creating a DS Logon is easier while on active duty when using your CAC. This can be accomplished by accessing the DMDC myAccess site at <https://myaccess.dmdc.osd.mil/>

Websites requiring DS Logon:

- MilConnect
- DFAS
- MHS Genesis Patient Portal

Login.gov: Login.gov uses strong multi factor authentication (MFA) and identity verification to protect you and your benefits. Just as with DS Logon, it is easier to create this login when you have a CAC.

Websites requiring Login.gov:

- VA.gov
- Social Security Benefits
- Small Business Loans
- USAJobs

Remember!

You will turn in your CAC when you separate or retire from active duty. Without a DS Logon and Login.gov account, you will not be able to access many necessary and useful websites. When you create your DS Logon account, be sure to record your log in name, password, and verification image. When you create your Login.gov account, be sure you record your email address, password, and personal key.

Extremism Post-Transition

When beginning military service, you took an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic. You have been trained to avoid and report extremist groups and activities that go against the fundamental principles of that oath. As you leave military service, guard against attempts to be radicalized, continue to take a stand against extremist organizations, and report suspicious activities to the proper authorities.

EXTREMISM REPORTING METHODS

- For an emergency, call 911
- FBI-Tips Electronic Tip Form: <https://tips.fbi.gov/>
- Local FBI offices: <https://www.fbi.gov/contact-us/field-offices>

RG, p. 67

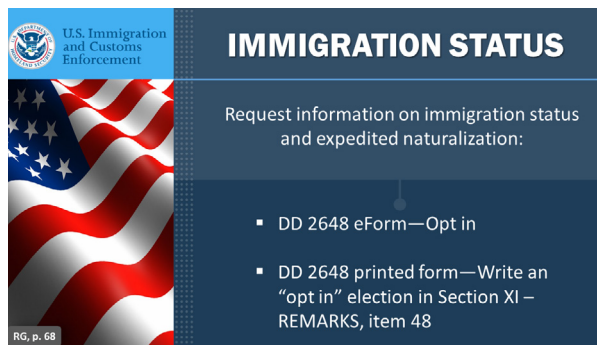

Reporting Methods

- For an emergency that requires an immediate law enforcement response, call 911 or your local Police Department or Sheriff's Department
- FBI-Tips Electronic Tip Form: <https://tips.fbi.gov/>
- Local FBI offices: <https://www.fbi.gov/contact-us/field-offices>

Immigration Status

The DD eForm 2648 allows a service member to opt in to request additional information regarding immigration status and expedited naturalization. If using the printed form, the option must annotate an “opt in” election in Section XI - REMARKS, item 48. This indicates the service member would like to receive additional resources on immigration and expedited naturalization.

For additional information, contact the local legal office on the installation or the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service at

<https://www.uscis.gov/>

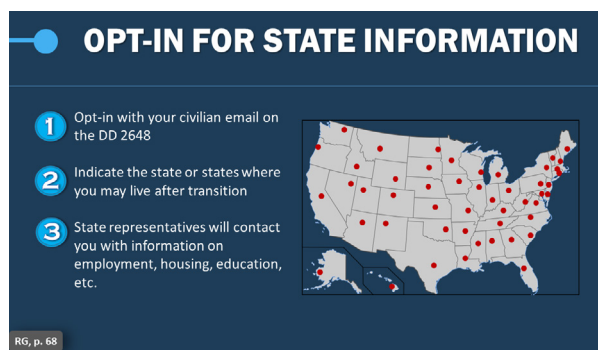

Opt-In for State Information

On the DD 2648, there is an option to share a personal email with the state or states you are considering for relocation. After opting in, a state representative will send information related to that state. Information may vary from state to state.

Additional information may include, but is not limited to:

- Employment opportunities, such as state job boards
- Educational opportunities, such as state grants and scholarships
- Housing information for the state
- Special exemptions or discounts on fees and taxes

To research state veteran benefits, the VA.gov website provides a link for each individual state veterans' page. From there, choose a state and review the benefits provided by the state. Take advantage of the benefits earned during your military service.

To find a listing of state veteran benefits, visit <https://www.va.gov/statedva.htm>.

Separation Pay

If being involuntarily separated or released from active duty, a service member may be eligible for separation pay. Separation pay eligibility and amounts are determined by the type of separation. The specifics on eligibility vary greatly from person to person based on the reason for separation. The local personnel office can provide more details on eligibility.

SEPARATION PAY

Separating: based on type of separation, reason for separation and vary greatly from person to person.

Final Pay:

- Will be reduced by any outstanding balances/debts owed.
- Service member is responsible for repayment of all debts, to include overpayment.
- RETIREES: Final pay will be delayed to ensure all debts are cleared.

IMPORTANT TO NOTE WHEN RECEIVING SEPARATION PAY:

- If receiving separation pay, and then become eligible for disability retired pay, the entire amount separation pay will recouped.
- The separation pay debt will be repaid using the disability pay. You will receive the disability pay once the repayment is complete.

RG, p.69

Final Pay

A service member may be eligible for final pay at separation that includes earned entitlements and pay for accumulated leave. The final pay amount will be reduced by any outstanding balances or advance pay received, unearned bonus recoupmnt, and any other debts incurred while serving.

Understand that some transactions already in process could result in an overpayment being received after separation. Additional payments or overpayments may create a debt. Specific questions about separation pay issues should be directed to the military personnel office. The actual amount of separation pay is computed by the local finance office.

For retirees, be aware that your final pay will be delayed. DFAS holds the final pay to verify and clear any possible debts. Therefore, it is necessary to plan for the final paycheck to be delayed, generally by 1 week, but possibly more.

NOTE: Service members are responsible for repayment of all debts, to include overpayment, owed to the Federal Government.

Separation Pay

If you received separation pay and then were awarded disability retired pay, the entire amount of separation pay will be recouped. VA disability payments will be used as repayment. The service member starts receiving disability payments when the entire separation pay amount has been recouped.

USDA FNS Supplemental Food Programs Food and Nutrition Service U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

While in the military, some individuals and families received food assistance from one of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) 16 supplemental food programs. These include the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children, known as WIC.

FNS programs aim to ensure you and your family have access to nutritious food during challenging times, even after you leave the military. By taking advantage of these resources, you can help your family maintain a healthy diet during this period of adjustment. FNS is committed to supporting you as you embark on this new chapter in your life.

Remember, you are not alone. If purchasing nutritious food becomes a challenge, you and your family may be eligible for assistance.

USDA FNS Supplemental Food Programs

- Some military personnel and their families can receive food assistance through USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) programs
- Key programs include SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) and WIC (Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children)
- FNS programs ensure access to nutritious food during challenging times, including after leaving the military

RG, p.70

To learn more about the programs and eligibility requirements, visit the FNS website at <https://www.fns.usda.gov/military-veterangov/>.

Thrift Savings Plan (TSP)

A TSP account belongs to you and is yours to keep, along with any contributions, earnings from contributions, and the government matching regardless of type of discharge. At separation or retirement, you do have choices. You can leave your money in TSP, roll it into another eligible retirement account, or withdraw the money (there may be some potential IRS penalties).

Keeping your address up to date is an important way to protect your TSP account. If you're no longer a Service member, log in to My Account to change your mailing address. When you log in to My Account, you can add an alternate mailing address to your profile and then choose which address should receive mailed TSP correspondence.

Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) – RETIREES ONLY

If retiring, it is necessary to understand the Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) so you can make decisions. SBP is a benefit of retirement for an identified recipient. This program continues to pay a monthly annuity to a surviving spouse or other designated beneficiary after the death of the veteran. While on active duty, this was a covered benefit; in retirement, it requires you to pay a premium.

At the time of retirement, a decision to either utilize this benefit and agree to make the payment or to decline the benefit is required. If you choose to continue SBP, the premium will be deducted from your monthly retirement pay. Choosing not to enroll in SBP, will require the notarized consent of the spouse or ex-spouse. This is also true for any amount taken less than the full amount. To help make this important decision, utilize the resources on your installation by attending an SBP class or consulting with a financial counselor.

NOTE: If you do not make a decision about Survivor Benefit Plan, you will be enrolled automatically for the full amount.

Legal Assistance

Military installations have legal assistance offices available to assist with legal matters such as:

- Will preparation
- Powers of attorney
- Review of most contracts
- Debit/credit problems
- Landlord/tenant issues
- Family law, tax law, and estate planning

All these services are a no-cost benefit while on active-duty service. For service members who separate or are released, access to these services post-transition may no longer be available. While retirees can use the installation legal office, it is on a space-available basis. Be sure to visit the local legal office prior to separation, retirement, or release from active duty to tend to any legal matters that may incur a cost post-transition.

Travel and Transportation Allowances

The move accompanying separation/retirement is different from the other moves in the military.

Separating Service members are authorized travel and transportation allowances from their last duty station to their home of record (HOR) or the place where they entered active duty (PLEAD).

For retirees, travel and transportation allowances are authorized from the last duty station to a home of selection (HOS) anywhere in the United States, to a home of record, or to the place they entered active duty outside the United States.

Eligible retirees and certain involuntary separatees (e.g., those with separation pay and at least 8 years of continuous active duty) are authorized for storage and shipment of household goods for up to a full year. Household goods may be shipped to:

- Any destination within the United States
- HOR (place of residence when entering the military) outside the United States
- Location outside the United States where they were initially called to active duty

All other separatees are authorized storage and shipment of household goods for up to 6 months. Items may be shipped to the location where they collected separation travel pay.

There are additional guidelines on transportation and allowances. For more information, contact the Personal Property or Transportation Office to schedule a personalized appointment.

Permissive Temporary Duty (PTDY) and Excess Leave (EL)

Permissive Temporary Duty (PTDY) or Excess Leave (EL) may be authorized for the purpose of job search and house hunting activities related to transition to civilian life, but authorization is dependent on the separation program designator (SPD) code. It is possible to request EL or PTDY/Temporary Additional Duty (TAD), but not both. Receipt of either is subject to mission requirements and approval of the Unit Commander.

Individuals who are eligible for PTDY include:

- Members who involuntarily separated under honorable conditions
- Members retiring from active duty
- Members voluntarily separating through a military department force reduction or force shaping program
- Members who are being discharged for medical reasons, under certain conditions

Service members voluntarily separating at the end of a normal term of service or involuntarily separating under conditions of other than honorable are NOT eligible for PTDY

Contact the personnel office for additional information regarding PTDY/EL and the Unit Commander who provides approval.

Housing Assistance Information

Military Housing

If you are living in government quarters, it is necessary to contact the housing office to determine the requirements and steps necessary to vacate government housing.

In some circumstances, if the service member meets the eligibility requirements and if space is available, it may be possible to extend the stay in military housing for up to 180 days after separation. However, staying in military housing past your date of separation will require rental payment at the current rental rate. Contact the Base Housing Office for more information.

Rental Property

If living in a rental property, notify the landlord as soon as possible. The housing office or legal office can assist with any problems which arise in conjunction with a military separation.

Office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)

HUD is a valuable resource for housing. The HUD Veteran Resource Center (HUDVET) has a wide variety of HUD programs and services for veterans and those facing the possibility of homelessness. HUDVET also helps with some of the tougher issues veterans can encounter, such as combat-related domestic violence, runaway youth, and affordable housing for individuals with disabilities.

The HUD website lists state resources and a variety of program offices for assistance. There is information on:

- Avoiding foreclosure
- Financing home improvements
- Buying and selling a home

If you want to explore some options and information from HUD, visit https://www.hud.gov/topics/veteran_information/Veterans_and_HUD.

Military Protections and Tax Benefits

After transition, certain consumer protections such as the Military Lending Act (MLA) and Servicemembers' Civil Relief Act (SCRA) are no longer available. Be sure to carefully review the terms of new credit or loans for a car or other large purchases. The installation PFM and Base Legal can assist with questions about MLA and SCRA protections.

Learn more about these protections at

<https://www.consumerfinance.gov/practitioner-resources/servicemembers/>.

Homelessness

Homelessness means an individual or family does not have a permanent place to live. If you are not sure where you will live after separation and are concerned or have any thoughts about the possibility of experiencing homelessness, schedule a one-on-one assistance session with a VA Benefits Advisor or express this concern to your commander or TAP counselor during the Capstone event.

Veterans who are homeless or at imminent risk of homelessness are strongly encouraged to contact the National Call Center for Homeless Veterans at (877) 4AID-VET (877-424-3638) for assistance, or visit <https://www.va.gov/homeless/>.

If access to a phone or the Internet is not available, visit the closest VA medical center.

Assistive Technology for Service Members

The DoD Computer/Electronic Accommodations Program (CAP) provides assistive technology (AT) to transitioning service members with injuries, limitations, and/or disabling conditions to assist in completing work or school-related tasks. Public Law 109-364 that was passed in the 2007 National Defense Authorization Act outlines the policy that allows a Service member to retain the AT received from CAP upon separation from active service.

CAP provides AT for the conditions listed below:

- Cognitive conditions such as Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD)
- Dexterity conditions that impact the neck, shoulders, back, or extremities
- Hearing conditions such as partial or full hearing loss and tinnitus
- Vision conditions such as low vision, blindness, eye strain, blurred vision, and eye fatigue
- Communication conditions such as vocal cord damage

Support through Needs Assessments

CAP supports transitioning Service members by providing needs assessments. CAP needs assessments are a critical step in the accommodation process. Many Service members with newly acquired conditions or are unfamiliar with AT may need assistance with identifying the most appropriate AT. Through the needs assessment process, CAP will work one-on-one with the Service member to learn about their condition and limitations, their goals after separation, and will use this information to recommend AT solutions.

Submitting a CAP request

For transitioning Service members that would like to request AT from CAP, a formal request may be submitted online at www.cap.mil.

Needs assessments may be requested by visiting: <https://cap.mil/Request-a-needs-assessment>.

Additional resources for Service members may be found at <https://cap.mil/wsm-wsm-coad>.

For more information and to determine if you qualify, visit CAP's website at <https://www.cap.mil/>.

Commissary, Exchange, and Morale, Welfare, and Recreation (MWR) Benefits

Use of the commissary, exchange, and MWR facilities is an essential benefit for those serving in the military. Upon separation, those receiving an honorable or general discharge, may be eligible for access to some or all of these services post-transition.

Full Commissary, Exchange, and MWR Privileges

The following groups of honorably discharged veterans and their eligible dependents are authorized full commissary, exchange, and MWR privileges. MWR privileges include on-installation MWR facilities and the online MWR travel-booking engine at www.AmericanForcesTravel.com.

- Uniformed services retirees of the Active and Reserve Components.
- Former uniformed services members eligible to receive retirement pay at age 60 for non-regular service.
- Medal of Honor recipients who are not eligible under another separation status.
- Disabled veterans with 100 percent permanent and total service-connected disability rating from the VA.

Two-year Commissary, Exchange, and MWR Access

Active-duty members and members of the Selected Reserve who are involuntarily separated and are eligible for transitional health care, along with their eligible dependents, are authorized two years of commissary, exchange, and MWR access beginning on the date of the involuntary separation. MWR access includes on-installation MWR facilities and the online MWR travel-booking engine at www.AmericanForcesTravel.com.

Veterans Military Exchange Online Shopping Benefit

All honorably discharged veterans have lifelong online access to military exchange shopping benefits.

Veterans can go to ShopMyExchange.com, mynavyexchange.com, mymcx.com, shopcgx.com or VetVerify.org to verify their eligibility and establish an online account.

Full Commissary and Exchange, plus Limited MWR Privileges

The following groups of honorably discharged veterans are authorized full commissary and exchange privileges. MWR privileges include certain on-installation MWR facilities such as the golf course, bowling center, and recreational vehicle parks and online MWR privileges such as the travel-booking engine.

These benefits do not extend to family members of these authorized veterans:

- Disabled veterans with a VA-documented disability rating between 0-90%
- Disabled veterans with 100 % permanent and total service-connected disability are entitled to full privileges
- Purple Heart recipients
- Former prisoners of war
- Individuals assessed, approved, and designated as caregivers or family caregivers for veterans under the VA Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Care-givers. These caregivers are only eligible for these privileges during their period of active enrollment as the caregiver or family caregiver for a veteran.

For more information, visit www.American-ForcesTravel.com.

Voting Assistance

While on active duty, service members are covered by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act (UOCAVA). After transition back to civilian life, coverage by UOCAVA is no longer applicable. Notify the local election official of the change in voter registration status and update your information to vote locally.

When staying in the same voting residence after separation:

- Notify election official of change in status. This can be done by locating the local online voter registration and making the necessary changes.

When moving to a new state or county after separation:

- Notify the current voting locale election official of the change in status and asked to be removed from voter registration for the current jurisdiction.
- Complete a National Voter Registration Form to register as a civilian.

If remaining or moving abroad after separation from the military, coverage by UOCAVA will be provided as an overseas citizen instead of as military personnel.
